FIRST DAY—MORNING SESSION

Palatka, Florida, December 7, 1933.

Promptly at 10 a. m., the Fifty-seventh Annual Session of the East Florida Annual Conference was called to order in Bethel A. M. E. Church, Palatka by Bishop J. S. Flipper, A. M., D. D., L.L. D., the presiding Bishop of the Eleventh Episcopal District. The devotional exercises were conducted as follows: First Hymn No. 295, "And Are We Yet Alive?" lined by Dr. G. E. Curry, Presiding Elder of the East Jacksonville District. Prayer by Dr. R. B. Brookins, Presiding Elder of the West Jacksonville District. Scripture lesson from the 11th Psalm, read by Rev. W. M. Williams, Presiding Elder of the South Jacksonville District. Decalogue led by Dr. J. S. Johnson, Presiding Elder of the North Jacksonville District.

After the devotion the Bishop began his address by saying.

"To the presiding elders, associate presiding elders, ministers, brethren, sisters and friends: It has pleased almighty God that we meet in another annual Conference. We have held three annual Conferences, the Florida, Middle South and the West Florida Conferences. Peace and harmony prevailed among us. There was not a cross word spoken and all had an increase in Dollar Money. I am expecting you to do your part. The Federal Council of Churches asked us to send in $100.00 to assist in enforcing the rights accorded us by the N. R. A., and I am asking this Conference to set aside $20.00.

The Bishop also said that he hoped that every minister that had not subscribed for a bond would do so at this session, and those that have subscribed would pay for or on the same.

"I want you to subscribe for the church papers. The trouble with us is that too many of us subscribe for the Christian Recorder. We live in the South and we should read the Southern Christian Recorder more than we do. Now my brethren, I am looking for peace and harmony. You may express yourselves but I am not going to hear any brother who cannot control himself. I will set you down and if you can't sit down I will come out there and put you down or put you out."

Afterwards the Bishop asked: "Who shall be the chief secretary?" By motion of Dr. G. E. Curry, Rev. W. P. Mitchell was elected. On motion by Dr. J. S. Johnson, Rev. M. M. Young was elected recording secretary. On motion of Rev. W. F. Foster, Rev. M. C. Brown was elected statistical secretary. By motion of Rev. G. E. Curry, the time to open sessions from 10 a. m., to 1 p. m.; reassemble at 3 p. m.; adjourn at will. By motion of Rev. W. M. Williams, Rev. C. E. Cook was elected chief marshal and Revs. A. W. Williams and John West, assistant marshals. On motion by Dr. G. E. Curry the bounds of the Conference were fixed, the outside casing of the second window across the church. By motion Rev. W. F. Foster was elected reporter to the Christian Recorder; Rev. C. A. Gibbs to the Southern Recorder; Rev. Joe Brown, Western Recorder; and Rev. W. B. L. Clark, secular press.

This over the Bishop called the marshals to distribute the lists of committees. This done the secretary read the lists of committees and new names added. The Finance Committee came forward and took their places.

This Bishop asked for those for admission: Brothers T. W. Tyson, Alonza Davis, L. W. Alexander, Azell Toplin, D. L. Smith, Spencer Green, E. Tood, Samuel Verene, Jasper Watkins James Ormond and Peter Walker were presented.

The Bishop questioned them, after which a motion prevailed for them to appear before the Committee on Admission.

Flipper arose and selected his text from Romans 8:29-30, "For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the firstborn among many brethren. Moreover whom he did predestinate, them he also called; and whom he called, them he also justified: and whom he justified, them he also glorified. Subject, "God's Foreknowledge." This was indeed a great sermon and the overflowing crowd of hearers were stirred even as on the day of Pentecost as the Bishop preached with power the gospel to the hungry souls, and closed amidst shouts of joy and praise and thanks to God for this sermon.

Rev. S. H. Hunter led in singing, "I Done Got Religion." The doors of the church were opened by Dr. G. E. Curry by singing, "I Am A Child Of The King." Prayer by Rev. S. H. Hunter. Following this prayer a song was sung.

The Bishop then presented to the deacons and deaconesses and elders their credentials. The Bishop lined Hymn No. 288 L. M., "Go Forth, Ye Heralds, in My Name." Prayer by Rev. M. C. Brown.

Bishop Flipper in his usual manner said, "To The presiding elders, ministers and friends: We have held four Conferences and we have not had a cross word in either of them, and I am not going to have one in the other three Conferences. I want to thank the choirs, pastors, officers, friends and ushers for the care provided for our entertainment. Our Dollar Money has made an increase, and I want to thank the people and ministers for the reports made.

"Now brethren, I am going to give you these Appointments and I don't want you to bother me for I will be through until next Conference. This way some of you have doing, I don't like it and if you keep it up I am going to put you down. Some of you preachers drink whiskey and I am told that there is a certain preacher who makes his choir drunk when he goes to his pulpit. I don't believe in it and I am going to have patience with you for a while; but you had better quit. I am sending you where the presiding elders recommended you. I have not changed one.

"My brothers and sisters, I am sending you back these preachers that you sent to me."

He then read the Appointments. This marked the close of another peaceful and harmonious session in the history of the East Florida Annual Conference.

Doxology was sung. Benediction by Bishop J. S. Flipper.

TEMPERANCE

To the Bishop and Members of the East Florida Annual Conference.

We your Committee assigned to write on Temperance beg leave to offer you this as our report.

The question of Temperance is the most vital problem the nation has to deal with today.

Notwithstanding we are facing many serious questions such as bank failures and the enactment of laws to better the condition of the country, but no crime should claim our earnest attention more than this vital question of Temperance. The country has been deeply stirred on Prohibition. An effort has been made to regulate a man's drinking by law. But Temperance is a moral issue; people must be taught and trained to know the advantages that come from a moral and sober life.

The Repeal of the 18th Amendment is not a sufficient guarantee of the return of prosperity as is predicted by many. The use of liquor has its destructive forces. The individual or nations dealing with same will come to a destructive end.

The use of alcohol has overthrown kingdoms and wrecked homes, and many lives.

No man's sins affect only himself, but too often his family is dragged into shame and disgrace.

We fear that the pulpit has been too modest in handling this question. We should take a decided stand against whiskey drinking.

In many cases, men have attempted to adulterate this idea by classing whiskey with other habits of less destruction.

Among the many things said by Bishop Flipper in his annual address was that whiskey-drinking preachers must go.

May we hail the order with delight and pass it down the line.

Committee,

P. O'NEAL,
C. E. COOK.

REPORT ON THE STATE OF THE CHURCH

Palatka, Fla., Dec. 8, 1933.

To the Bishop and Members of the East Florida Annual Conference, A. M. E. Church. Greetings.

We your Committee herewith beg to respectively submit the following as a report on the State of the Church, hoping it will meet the hearty approval of the Conference.

The Church Criticised

The Church has had many titles affixed to her in the course of her long and checkered history. Men have spoken of her as the Church militant and as the Church triumphant, but the title which would best suit the condition of the Church today would be the Church criticised.

For a long time criticism has poured in upon her from many different quarters, some friendly and some hostile. But of all the institutions of mankind, the Church has been most open to the destructive analysis which is so evident in the modern spirit of approach.

There are various types of critics of which the Church is the object. If you examine the matter closely you will find that the critics do not speak with anything like a united voice, and if allowed sufficient scope would ultimately destroy themselves.

There are some who find fault with the Church because she is too narrow, others, because she is too broad; others say that she meddles too much in the affairs of the world, others say that she does not apply her message with enough courage to measure up with the demands of present day events; some complain that she is too far away from the work-a-day world in its strivings and needs, others that she has lost her lustre by mixing too freely with the common affairs of life.

With all of this criticism there is no common standpoint. The Church obviously cannot please every man's whim and taste and it has no business to try to do so.

The man who stays outside of the Church and criticises it, is throwing stones at people who have undertaken responsibilities that he has refused. Every critic of the pulpit ought to be made to occupy the pulpit to make the punishment fit the crime. People who want love without the responsibilities of the home, who want a better country but who will take no part in politics, have in their class also those who want religion but will not take any part in the Church.

The Answer of the Church to Her Critics

The problem of the imperfect Church must be looked at as a whole, for it belongs to all of life. The Church may have made many mistakes, there may be many hypocritical Christians, petty and quarrelsome churches, but is that to be wondered at when you know human nature, that part that is under our direct guidance and control? The mistake is to say that because some Christians are hypocritical and some churches quarrelsome, I will take no part in the business at all, I will stand outside. A hypocritical Christian no more condemns Christianity than a hypocrite in business condemns the ethics of commercial life. A quarrelsome church no more condemns the Church as an institution than the quarrelsome family condemns the home. However, the Church has always been conscious of its imperfections, and the many criticisms heaped against the Church is no new discovery at all. Men have always felt that there is a distance between the ideal and the institution; and no true son of the Church has been wholly satisfied with it. This thought is fully expressed by Saint Paul in II Corinthians 4:7. The church, in words of one of the leading Bishops in Methodism, needs to "get on its knees, and then face the world and God."

The Task of the Church of Today

Probably the challenge of the Church today is greater than it has been for ages. Not only is she vested with the sacred task of leading men to God, effecting moral and social reformations, but in this period of depression and in this state of flux, the Church must be able to apply the needed panacea to the many moral and mental ills of the world. Men need courage, faith, hope and inspiration and vision to enable them to lift their heads above the torrent currents of despair and disaster. The Church must supply this remedy. The Church, though financially weak, must cooperate with other agencies of charity in helping to relieve suffering humanity of its ills.

The Financial Support of the Church

The Church is suffering a great financial deficit in America. Methodism alone is around Seven Million Dollars short. This deficit greatly incapacitates the Church in carrying out her regular program of human uplift. With Mr. Roger Babson, we appeal to all churchmen to do their best by the church financially, realizing that the Church is the most potential institution in the world for the uplift of the race.

Respectfully Signed, Your Committee,

L. J. JENKINS.

THE STATE OF THE COUNTRY

Palatka, Fla., Dec. 8, 1933.

To the Bishop and Members of the East Florida Conference. Greetings.

The subject which has been assigned to me, "The State of the Country," is of tremendous import from every viewpoint to those who are of serious thought, and who are really interested in the welfare of the race, and nation, in respect to both economic, moral, education and religion.

Economic

Sometimes we are inclined to think that there are but few who really know but little about the real state of the country.

The economic condition of the country at present seems to be improving as compared to a short time ago. According to statistics we are told that the number of families on the relief rolls had dropped from 4,500,000 in April to 3,000,000. There may be some encouragement in the above statement. However, permanent employment for the millions who are jobless seems to be the main problem as to our economic recovery.

With reference to the present methods, which some call experiments to speed up recovery, we have quite a multitude of conflicting opinions. Among the critical economists, Mr. Virgie Jordan, President of the National Industrial Conference Board, who lately called the Roosevelt policies in general "erroneous, unsound and destructive," and said that the administration has subordinated the problem of recovery to considerations of radical reconstruction of the economic system according to the ideas of a special sect of economic theorists with which it happened to associate itself." Whatever may be said for or against, the fact remains that until permanent employment is provided for the thousands who are living upon charity, and otherwise, it would not be safe to say that the question of our economic condition is hardly more than a temporary improvement.

Moral

The moral condition, at a first glance, seems on the downward trend. One hardly knows how to arrive at a truthful conclusion. At one time not too long ago, the country thought in terms of a high moral ideal, not as some translate the term to mean, but according to the standard of the Man of Galilee. Today it seems that every man sets the standard for himself, which might have a deal to do with the seemingly relentless crime wave of our present day, which like a mighty prairie fire sweeps everything to ruin and decay. Laws, rules and regulations which were once held sacred, are brushed aside as a matter of theory. The mob spirit is a law unto itself; today it is both prosecutor, witnesses, judge and juror.

Coolness and deliberation seem to be a thing of the past, and judgment fled to brutish beast. Nothing seems to be held sacred and dear. Homes are simply used for places to eat and sleep, altars torn down by fiery passion.

Men who gave to the world the best in Art, Poetry, Morality, Music and Religion are now looked upon as having been fanatics, and if there is an abiding Universal Mind, it is far away from man. Prohibition, according to the actions of the whole country, is no longer a moral, but a political question; character can no longer be developed, but legislated. Perhaps the 18th Amendment would not have been so easily repealed had not the church ceased to organize and maintain its temperance societies and movements. We have slept for twelve years to awake and find that the 18th Amendment is no more, and that John Barleycorn reigns as king supreme with his devotees, which leaves in his path terror, hell and destruction.

Education

It cannot be honestly disputed, that aside from materialism, that the spirit of America, as well as other countries, is that of education. Today as a whole the facilities for educational purposes far surpass that of other days. Teachers are better prepared than formally; but when an educational system fails to provide equal opportunity; and when its main objective is to be mere culture without real character; and which fails to better fit one for life's tasks, and which seems to leave a great many as parasites, it seems paradoxical. Our penal institutions seem to attest to the above statements. Without a system of education which puts character, moral stamina and spiritual ideals, and which puts God in our thinking and actions, our civilization crumbles just as others have done in the past.

Religion

The Church today seems to be facing a task of tremendous import. The present unrest and indifferent attitude of many may be the factors which have introduced what may be termed, a slow revolution. History seems to suggest that religious declension is usually followed by those things which makes personal and national destruction. The Hitler movement seems to be marshalling out of their National religious life the Old Testament characters, and substituting therefor their great dead war lords and potentates, thereby ruling God out of their own universe. What seems to be true with Germany, also seems to be true with other nations—some far and some nearer.

Yet with twice-born men and women, the Church of the living God, has ever outlived her enemies, and her flag still waves to the breeze. No enemy nor movement has ever been able to stop its relentless warfare against sin. She grows stronger with every conflict. If we have faith in God that will move mountains, in His own time and way, through the instrumentality of human agencies, the kingdoms of this world, shall become the kingdom of God and His Christ.

Respectfully Submitted,

G. F. BARTELLE.

ON SUNDAY SCHOOLS

To the Bishop and Members of the East Florida Annual Conference.

We your Committee on Sunday Schools beg to submit the following as our report.

We note with special delight that ninety per cent of the congregations of this Conference have well organized Sunday Schools. Manned by well equipped officers and teachers. Educationally, these persons in most cases having charge of Sunday Schools, will compare very favorably with eight grade public school graduates. Our pastors we feel are to be commended for this favorable condition of our Sunday Schools.

We would suggest, however, whenever it is possible, that the pastors see to it that consecrated persons be put in charge of the Sunday Schools as officers and teachers, especially the superintendents, believing as we do that the spiritually-minded ones, are better teachers and officers and more prepared to teach the Bible and instruct our youths in the doctrine and polity of the African Methodist Episcopal Church.
